1. BACKGROUND

South Africa remains the epicentre of the HIV epidemic, accounting for more than a quarter of new HIV infections in East and Southern African countries and an estimated 8 million people living with HIV (PLHIV) in 2018. The country has made significant progress in reducing new HIV infections and AIDS related deaths by 39% and 50% respectively since 2010 (UNAIDS, 2018). Access to HIV testing and effective antiretroviral therapy (ART) has also improved substantially with the implementation of the test and treat initiative, and increased availability of affordable drugs with fewer side effects. The country remains committed to the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS) 90–90–90 targets which aim to ensure 90% of PLHIV know their HIV status, 90% of people with diagnosed HIV receive sustained ART, and 90% of people on ART are virally suppressed by 2020, with these targets increasing to 95% by 2030 (UNAIDS, 2018).

The country is also committed to UNAIDS 10-10-10 targets for 2025, that calls for less than 10% of countries to have legal environments that deny access to justice and for less than 10% of people with HIV and key populations to experience stigma and discrimination. The final set of targets focuses on getting to less than 10% of women, girls, people with HIV and key populations to experience gender inequality and violence.

The National Strategic Plan (NSP) for HIV, TB and STIs: 2017 – 2022 recognises that, despite South Africa being recognised globally for its positioning and response to human rights, there are still important gaps to close with regards to the full implementation of the human rights agenda, particularly for key and vulnerable populations. Goal 5 of South Africa's National Strategic Plan for HIV, TB and STIs 2017-2022 aims to ground the response to HIV, TB and sexually transmitted infections (STIs) in human rights principles and approaches, to reduce stigma and discrimination, ensure equal treatment for all and to increase access to justice in the context of HIV, TB and STIs for all key and vulnerable populations.

Sensitisation of law enforcement agencies to understand and respond to human rights violations, in the context of HIV and AIDS, TB and STIs for key and vulnerable populations is essential to achieving goal 5 of the NSP.
